SCHOOL TOWN HALL THURSDAY

Tonight, August 10th at 7 p.m. there will be town hall meeting in Zwislser Hall concerning new state funding for the school and how that will affect you and your student's tuition.

MONSTRANCE

Those of you who attended adoration on Tuesday should have noticed that our monstrance had returned. We had a loaner monstrance while ours was out for refurbishing. It was supposed to be back by Easter but there were various delays in its restoration. I didn't realize how much in need of work it was until it returned looking absolutely splendid. This monstrance was donated to the parish by the Kraus Family as a memorial in honor of Private First-Class Richard Joseph Kraus who died in action during World War II.

CONSTRUCTION

On Monday, a black tarmac base was supposed to be put down on Mull Avenue with brick laying to begin on Tuesday. Unfortunately, it rained like the dickens on Monday and while Tuesday did not see a pick up in the work, at least the bricks were delivered. It doesn't look great for the prospect of the road being open in time for the first day of school. But hopefully soon after.

GABRIEL KNEY ORGAN INSTALLED AT SEMINARY

The first picture is our restored Monstrance. The second is a picture from Friday's Pig Roast and Bourbon Tasting. The third picture is Mull Avenue patiently awaiting the laying of black tarmac to be put on it before the bricks are laid. Finally, the fourth is a picture of our organ in the choir loft of the Sacred Heart Chapel at the seminary.

These bottom two pictures were taken in jest. On Wednesday, all new seminarians had a meeting with the bishop, so we took a “First Day of School” photo. From left to right is John Scantling (St. Sebastian), John Paul Antalek (St. Mary, Akron), Christopher Villarreal (St. Sebastian) and Connor Trout (St. Basil).

HOUSE NEWS

Slowly our seminarians will be slipping away as they take last minute vacations and prepare to head up to the seminary. Even Ryan Arto, our intern, will be gone for about a week as he will be joining with the rest of the seminary on retreat. Fr. Joe Robinson stayed with us for a couple of days and even helped celebrate our Festival Mass this past Saturday. It sure has been fun having them around. Please keep them and all of our seminarians in your prayers!

PAPAL BLESSING PARCHMENTS

These blessing parchments can be ordered via a Vatican website for events including marriages, anniversaries, First Communion and Confirmation. Users must complete the form and pay by card. The cost is about $50 for mailing to the US. Click here to visit the website.

So that was an interesting letterhead to come across in the file entitled, "SCHOOL - General Correspondence."

Dear Rev. Father:

School will be open in a few days and the children will be bak (sic) at their desks. We sell candy and we would like to supply you with part of your needs for them. Our prices are right, and the service is good. A try will convince you.

A call would be appreciated. With kindness regards, we remain,

Very truly yours,

L. J. Sutter

There was a hand-written note at the bottom of the letter by Father Zwisler that said:

Sister Bernice,

Mr. Sutter is a member of the parish. You could give the above request some consideration. Please return this letter to me.

Thank you!

Father Zwisler
